Keeping Up -- With Uplanders

By V. V. P.

ALMOST WORTH IT

If a person gets up early enough the mountains can be seen. And it is worth it (almost) to get up early every morning to appreciate the very remarkable view that exists before the current southland atmosphere clutters up the scenery. A mild wind storm prevailed here Sunday and wind is a blessing when it enables us to once again see the nearby mountains, the citrus area and the valley.

BEING LOOKED OVER

Incidentally, we are being "looked over", by prospective residents. Lockheed Corp. is going to transfer many of its employes now at Burbank to this area in the next few months.

"Want to live in the best possible surroundings and we are here to look over Upland," visitors tell us. And so the visitors critically analyze this and other communities. We think Upland rates near the top — with one serious disadvantage; about the only way a new family can locate here is to buy or build a house. As for other factors, none better can be found.

The fact remains, the Upland district is constantly in need of more houses to meet the demand.

How about more good rentals? The community could use 'em.

SCHOOL BOUNDARY

Some neighbors are in a friendly feud — and we hope the "feud" remains very friendly.

The issue is over the proposed change in the school boundary, placing it at the freeway. Admittedly, there are two sides to the question. The matter is to be settled at an election many weeks in the future. In the meantime, there is likely to be much discussion.

The Upland News is eager to publish both sides and it hereby welcomes comments and letters from all interested residents.

HISTORIC BIDDING

The Upland school distirct sold $80,000 of its bonds Monday, proceeds to be used in providing an addition to the Baldy View school building.

Such a sale is not at all unusual but the fact that four financial firms offered the same interest rate — 2 ¾ per cent — is unusual. And as a special "bonus" to get the bid, two firms offered an identical premium — $1,120.

In the long history of the special legal firm handling this matter, never has this coincidence occured, according to Harold W. Cook, local school superintendent.

CLOCK SKELETON

During our absence from Upland for a few weeks, we had hoped something would happen to the clock skeleton on the vacated bank building downtown. But, no, it is still there. And that is one of the first things local residents and visitors here observe.

COMMUNITY CHEST

The quickest way to meet the Upland Community chest budget is to do something about it NOW. Send a check to Mrs. Hazel Cassell, city hall — and make it bigger than ever.

PICK UPS

"A grateful mind
Is both a great
And a happy mind."

Do what you have to do and do it now; spell "now" backwards and you have the answer.

City Sells Tract To Boyd Lbr. Co.

Pending certain contingencies, Upland council Thursday authorized placing in escrow for sale to the Boyd Lumber Co., of Alhambra, the city owned tract of 9.3 acres near the east city limits.

The sale agreement which the mayor and city clerk were authorized to prepare will call for approval of the city planning commission of a zone change to light manufacturing, the granting of the company's request to install a burner for the disposition of sawdust and other waste materials, minor street changes and installation of curbing by the company along Arrow Hwy.

The tract which is being sold by the city at a price of $2500 an acre, is located along the south side of Arrow Hwy., south to the Pacific Electric tracks and from 14th Ave., east to the flood channel.

Charles Jenkins, a partner in the company which he said does an annual business in excess of $2 million was at the meeting and stated his company intends establishing a retail building supply store and lumber yard on the site as soon as negotiations clear escrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Hazelton, 1862 W. Arrow Hwy. and her mother, Mrs. B. E. McKinney, 462 Hervey Ave., were in Sacramento for a week, returning Sunday from their vacation in the capitol city.

10 Hearings For City Planners Meet Tonight

Ten hearings on requests for zone changes face the Upland Planning Commission when they meet tonight at 7:30 in the city hall.

E. Arden and Frances M. Schacht are asking for conditional use that will allow them to add five separate dwelling units to create a bungalow court at the rear of 442 E. Arrow Hwy.

Doug Robertson requests a change from residence to commercial zoning of two lots on the southeast corner of Sycamore and Campus Aves., that he may operate a neighborhood grocery.

Ronald I. Ingold asks a change from R3 residence to C2 for the southwest corner of Euclid Ave. and Ninth St.

Charles L. Milhiser is asking a change from residence single family 10,000 sq. ft. to highway commercial for the southwest corner of Euclid and Foothill Blvd.

Harold S. Stewart as trustee has two applications, one to obtain a zone classification for professional use near the hospital with frontage along the south side of San Bernardino Rd., to a depth of 200 ft. from 11th Ave. to the County Flood control channel. He asks a change from residential single family 7500 to restricted commercial. A second application, asks to bring the area north of Arrow Hwy., from 11th Ave., to the west boundary of the county flood control channel extending to a line 200 ft., south of San Bernardino Rd., be changed from residence single family to R3, residence multiple. The change is to bring the area into conformity with surrounding zones between R1 and the M1 zone.

R. A. Howard, to establish a radio and TV business asks a change from agricultural poultry to light manufacturing of two lots on the west side of Central Ave. With his application he attached a petition signed by 17 residents of the area, approving the change.

The City of Upland asks a change to light manufacturing for the 9.3 acre tract now in escrow to be sold to the Boyd Lumber Co. The property is on the south side of Arrow Hwy., at the edge of the city.

Don Barnett asks a variance to allow him to operate a one-man radio and TV repair service at 382½ N. Palm Ave.

Wm. A. Hawkinson ask a variance to allow construction of a duplex on the lot between 476 and 524 Winn Dr. He states his lot is 86 ft. in width among neighboring lots of lesser width, where zoning now limits to single residence.

Fontana Firm To Build City Control House

Upland city council in an adjourned meeting Monday night accepted the bid of Shafer and Senk Construction Co., of Fontana for construction of the electric control building to be located at the crest of San Antonio dam.

The Fontana company's bid of $2486 for erection of the building was the lowest of three submitted.

The city manager was authorized to negotiate a contract with the successful bidder who is to begin work 10 days after execution of a contract.

Following the opening and study of bids, Upland's consulting engineer, A. L. Sondregger presented plans for electrical equipment to be installed in the control house when completed.

There'll Be Costume Prizes On Halloween

Police Chief Ralph Palmer received a special invitation from Jimmy Halloway, Jackie Wessely, Barbara and Rebekah Stewart for the Goblins' Gambol in the community building of Upland Memorial Park, Halloween night. The affair is sponsored by the Baldy View P-T A and is Upland's first community celebration of its kind. The chief urged parents to attend the affair with their children.

Community Chest Fund Drive Is In First Week

Participation in funds of the Upland Community Chest greatly aids the Sick Baby Fund in giving immediate treatment to cases such as the illustration below.

The Upland Community Chest drive for funds started this week with a crew of 72 persons making solicitations that all agencies participating may draw from the one contribution made by residents rather than separate and individual drives by each.

Six weeks old baby girl W. C. had been a normal healthy child. Two weeks before being admitted to the hospital she had developed sniffles and a runny nose. The day before she was admitted to San Antonio Community hospital through the Sick Baby Fund, she showed little evidence of illness except for a loss of appetite. On the day of admission, this girl developed convulsive movements of the left arm and leg. A spinal tap after admission revealed meningococal meningitis.

Hospitalization, oxygen, intravenous solutions, and drugs, including antibiotics, would be necessary to save this child's life. Since funds apparently were not available to provide all of this, arrangements were made to utilize funds from the Sick Baby Fund at the San Antonio Community hospital.

Extensive laboratory work, medical and nursing care were provided this baby girl. Eighteen days later, this child was sent home, completely cured.

Later it was found that the parents had insurance to cover this illness and so the money was put back into the Sick Baby Fund to provide care for some other child who would need it.

Mayor Speaks To Jr. C of C Tonight

Mayor E. Tweed Stone will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Upland-Ontario Jr. Chamber of Commerce tonight.

Mayor Stone will show pictures of his salmon fishing trips and narrate on his trips.

The meeting was arranged by program chairman, Wayne Blanton and convenes at 7:30 p.m. in the Mural House in Ontario.

Eureka Gardens Turns Down Annexation

Eureka Gardens voted down the proposal to annex their area to the city of Upland by a vote of 19 nos to 12 yes, according to unofficial totals of the special election held Tuesday.

The area containing 43 registered voters is located east of Grove Ave., to Sierra Madre Ave., and extends from 9th St. to the Santa Fe right-of-way.

Votes of the special election will be canvassed by the Upland city council at their meeting of Nov. 3.

City Defendant In $10,000 Suit For Injuries

Damage suits totaling $10,500 for injuries allegedly received while on the playgrounds at Upland Memorial Park, last summer were filed last week by Raymond K. Leon, 10359 25th St., Cucamonga, on behalf of his daughter Evangeline age 11.

The suit, filed through his attorney Robert G. Beloud of Ontario alleges the child, while playing on the "Maypole" type swing was permanently injured. The girl is reported to have struck a table which the father charges was negligently left near the swing and struck by the girl, while playing at the grounds the late afternoon of July 17.

An additional $500 is being asked by the parent to cover actual hospital and medical expense incurred in treatment of his daughter, and $10,000 general damages.

The claim was referred by council to the Upland city attorney for presentation to the city's insurance carrier.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Long, 295 10th Ave., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bovee in Ventura on Sunday and returned home with a 50-pound watermelon. Mr. and Mrs. Bovee recently visited in Nebraska, where they obtained the huge melon, which they gave to the Uplanders.

Chief Endorses Goblins' Gambol Monday Night

Chief Ralph H. Palmer of Upland Police has endorsed the community Halloween celebration for children in the Upland community park clubhouse, Monday, from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m., sponsored by the Baldy View P-T A.

"I urge all parents to take their children to the Goblins' Gambol," he said "This is Upland's first community Halloween. I think it is a wonderful opportunity to encourage children to participate. It is a much safer way to celebrate than to have small children on the streets after dark. The police expect to have their hands full on this night and by taking part in the community celebration children will have just as much fun as if they are allowed to continue 'trick or treat'."

Mrs. Maurice Johnson, chairman, announced that the costume parade will take place in front of the clubhouse at 6 p.m. Judges will be Mayor E. Tweed Stone, Harold W. Cook and Mrs. Frances Mitchell.

Prizes will be given to children in three age groups. Best costumes will go to a boy and girl in a pre-school group, in 1st 2nd and 3rd grade group and in the 4th, 5th and 6th grade group.

The fun will start at 4 p.m. when booths arranged by the P-T A will open. Families will be able to take their evening meal at the celebration. Novel names have been given all booths. Hot dogs, hamburgers and salads will be served from the 'Witche's Cauldron'. Cakes, cookies, nut bread and pies will be available, in single servings at 'Williams and Saltzmans de Luxe Baked Goodies'. Drinks, hot or cold, candied apples, pop corn are also included.

'The Children's Playhouse' and the 'Gnome Tree' will have toys and gifts and 'The Witch's Pack' is the name given the apron and novelty booth. Gardners will be able to buy plants at 'The Garden Shop.'

City Manager To Be Honored

Providing an opportunity for close associates of Richard G. Manley to honor him for his 35 years of community service, a dinner will be held in the Upland Woman's clubhouse Tuesday evening.

Invitations have been sent to all former public officials here and to the present city employes by Mayor E. Tweed Stone.

Mr. Manley, who has guided the municipal affairs for years and who is reaching his retirement date of Jan. 1, will be given fitting honors for his leadership.

13 Acres Citrus Trees Removed For New Subdivision

Thirteen acres of orange trees were uprooted this week. Extending from 15th to 16th Sts. west of Euclid Ave., the acreage is being cleared to make room for 42 new houses. Actual construction of the houses will start later in the year, according to Delbert Hensley and Earl Hawthorne, who recently handled the sale of the property. The citrus was formerly owned by V. A. Copeland, Dwight Decker and Mrs. Van Natta Gregg.

On the northern half of the tract, the former grove extended to the Euclid frontage. Along the southern half of the property, however, the Euclid frontage is already developed.

The Sick Baby Fund operating at San Antonio Community hospital financed immediate costs that this child dangerously ill, could be treated immediately. A delay would have proved fatal. Upland's Community Chest provides liberally to the operation of such agencies and is now soliciting subscriptions to provide funds for the ensuing year.

Petitions to Supervisors

Election Assured To Decide School Boundary Location

College Heights Group Prefer Upland to Monte Vista

Representatives of a group of 60 families of the College Heights area, running along West Ninth St., formally protested their being included in the Monte Vista incorporation area, to the Monte Vista Improvement Assn., in their regular meeting last week.

Melvin Lyons, spokesman for the group gave a prepared list of six reasons why the group object to being included in the city of Monte Vista should present efforts to incorporate be successful.

W. W. Coates, former president of the Monte Vista association and currently manager of the Monte Vista Water Co., discussed at length points leading up to the present effort to incorporate. He answered some of the points put by these objecting to inclusion, ending with the statement that whether or not this area is included in Monte Vista if and when incorporated, is entirely up to the county board of supervisors.

COLLEGE HGTS. ACTIVE

The W. Ninth St. families have already obtained a petition signed by every family of the group which in turn has been presented the board of supervisors but they were advised any decision must await the filing of Monte Vista applications and petitions.

PREFERS UPLAND

Speaking for the group of 60 families protesting annexation in Monte Vista, Miss Janet Johnson, a resident of the four block strip and one of the signers to the petition appeared before the Upland city council Thursday night asking that Upland accept the annexation of the area.

Miss Johnson, 1654 W. Ninth St., a county public health nurse working in Upland schools told the council that residents of the area had always felt themselves a part of Upland in spirit.

Upland City Attorney Henry M. Busch advised the council that legal action could not be instigated to annex the area to Upland until the group has succeeded in being excluded from the Monte Vista incorporation.

Such request can be made when the county board of supervisors holds the public hearing on the proposed Monte Vista incorporation, sometime after Nov. 2 when the incorporation petitions must be filed, Mr. Busch said.

The council voted favorably to accept the area into Upland should the residents so request should they succeed in being excluded from the Monte Vista movement.

Representatives From Both Sides Discuss Views

An election to decide the Upland-Ontario school boundary question is virtually certain today. Date for the vote will be set later, after a petition has followed the established routine through the courthouse.

County Superintendent of schools, C. Burton Thrall told Upland school officials this week he will recommend to the county board of supervisors the holding of an election so residents concerned can decide if they want to secede from the Ontario school district and join Upland. In an adjourned meeting Monday night, Upland school board members made no recommendation on the question since the holding of an election was virtually certain.

Opposition against the school boundary change was firmly voiced by Robert Totten, 599 Olive St., who filed a petition at the board meeting. This was the first official evidence of any opposing vocie and Mr. Totten ably presented his case against the move. He was supported on one side of the board meeting room with other parents who want no change in the school boundary.

Just as ably represented were the leaders in the change, who were assembled. Floyd Allen, Ted Atwood and Forrest Howell were among those calling for an election to decide the question.

Mr. Totten obtained from Superintendent Harold W. Cook the statement that "it is not economically feasible for a new school to be placed in the area east of

Council Denies Foothill Appeal For Re-Zoning

Final disposition of the request for a zone change of a strip of Foothill Blvd., frontage which had been hanging fire for several weeks came Thursday night when the Upland city council in its regular meeting sustained the planning commission's denial of the application.

Clifford Cochran and Harold Stewart, owners of a 400 ft. strip located between San Antonio Ave. and Euclid Ave., along the north side of Foothill Blvd., had requested a zone change to C-4, highway commercial, which was denied by the, Upland planning commission. The hearing before the city council was an appeal from the planner's refusal of their application.

Though council voted unanimously in sustaining the denial by the planning commission, Mayor E. Tweed Stone stated that council was not planning for themselves, but for the citizens of the city of Upland.

Permission for the development known as "Stuft Shirt" on the northwest corner of Foothill Blvd. and Euclid Ave. was given on presentation of complete plans, the Mayor said. An investment of some $600,000 is planned.

Art Exhibit Is Open to Public

One hundred and fifty persons attended the annual banquet and preview sponsored by the Chaffey Community Art Assn., Saturday night. Artists, displaying paintings, were guests.

This event marked the beginning of the 15th annual invitation exhibit of contemporary painting, which will be open to the public until 9 p.m. next Sunday. The exhibit, without charge, may be expected from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the women's gymnasium on the campus.

Mrs. W. E. Amberson of Upland, director of the exhibit, spoke briefly at the banquet, expressing her appreciation for the fine cooperation. Donald B. Goodall, associate professor and head of the department of fine arts at U. S. C., the principal speaker, gave high praise to the artists in attendance and to the idea of the art exhibit here.

Five paintings will be voted on by the association members this week in selecting the favorite.

Assessed Valuation Of School Area Reported Higher

Assessed valuation of property in Upland annex No. 4 was officially reported yesterday at $3,252,000 and not $2,400,000 as previously considered.

This figure is important since it is this area under consideration for a transfer from the Ontario to the Upland school district.

An official report on the new valuation figure was received yesterday by Superintendent Harold W. Cook. If a change in the school boundary is approved at a forthcoming election, this assessed valuation total would be added to the present assessment of the Upland school distirct.

School Boundary Change Protested

First of an anticipated series of discussions about the proposed change in school district boundaries is published in The Upland News today.

In this controversial issue, The News is opening its news columns to all interested persons, reserving the editorial colums for expression of the newspaper's views. Fairness and an impartial presentation of the issue is the aim of The News, although the newspaper cannot be responsible for the statements and figures presented by the various contributors.

The following was contributed:

By R. E. Totten

May I use your open forum as a means to present some facts to the taxpayers and parents residing in that portion of the Ontario elementary school district.

A group has circulated a petition in this area to have this portion of the Ontario school district annexed to the Upland school district.

As a taxpayer and a parent, I feel there have been false ideas created in the minds of the people. A few such ideas should be elaborated upon.

Monday when the petition was presented to the Upland school board, several questions were asked both of the school board and the petitioners, such questions and answers being of vital importance.

The school board was asked if it could adequately take care of the 450 children involved. Answer: "No! The children would have to be shifted around the various schools with considerable double session resulting."

The board was then asked if by including the proposed annexed area there would be enough assessed valuation to raise the approximately $450,000. Answer: "No."

At this time the petitioners were asked their ideas on the problems the above answer would bring. Their answer: "Leave it to the school board, that's their problem." (Without money, no school board can build buildings.)

Next question asked, what

Know Your Policeman

Believes His Work As Officer Can Aid Good Public Relations

Richard CARR

"I like people, I like Upland, and I feel that as a member of the police department I am a public relations representative for Upland," are the main reasons officer Richard Carr gives for liking his work in the Upland police department.

Officer Carr, charged specifically with the handling of traffic complaints and investigations between 3 and 11 P.M. daily, has an excellent opportunity to practice his ideals in relationship to his work, as few persons come in singing, to answer a traffic citation.

To better fit himself for his police work Mr. Carr has attended three 18 week courses in criminal law covering the subjects of law, evidence and investigations.

For hobbies he dotes on even more excitement than police work as a member of the Circle City Racing Assn., appearing in jalopy races usually held in the Orange Show stadium at San Bernardino.

His second, and less exciting avocation now is the breeding and training of wire hair terriers. He now has a pair of AKC dandies in which he now finds both an interest and pleasure.

Richard, who is a son of Upland city councilman Donald Carr, is a native of West Virginia, moving to Upland in 1944 where he entered Chaffey High school, graduating in 1948. Eighteen months in the navy came next during which time as a storekeeper on one of the big ships he got to the Phillippines and Japan.

Following his discharge from the navy he attended Chaffey College but lacked one semester of graduation, which he hopes to make up in the future.

He joined the Upland police reserves in 1951 during which period he served some four months as a member of the Upland fire department before his appointment to the police department.

Shortly after joining the department in 1951 while riding with fellow officer Sgt. John McCarthy in pursuit of a speeding car on Foothill Blvd., they were themselves the victim of an auto accident when a car ahead made a sudden left turn causing the police car to go out of control. Both oficers were injured but Carr says he was lucky. He carries only a scar while Sgt. McCarthy, though at work regularly, is still bothered some from the injuries received.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr, together with their 18 months old son, Patrick, live at 953½ Washington Blvd.

Veterans' Widow Is Rejoicing These Days

Mrs. Alexander Morales

This is a time for rejoicing by Mrs. Alexandra Morales, an Upland mother who is the widow of U. S. Army Pvt. Luis Morales. Last week in San Bernardino she received her citizenship. This week the house she has built under the G I bill, on Sixth St. is ready for her to move in with her three daughters and her son Luis Morales, Jr.

It is 10 years and 7 months since her husband died of a sniper's bullet in the Pacific war theater. The delayed news was received just one week before her son was born.

"We had three daughters," she says. "My husband wanted a son and in one of his letters he wrote about it and said he wanted him called 'junior'."

Speaking of the years in between and her enviable achievement since then she explained that she is grateful for the pension she receives as a war widow but she wanted to save for a home. Her solution was to work and during the past 10 years she has worked at cleaning.

Her most steady post is at Los Olivos housing project where she and her family have been living. Mrs. Esther Black of the housing authority reports that Mrs. Moralis is an expert at her job.

She has never returned to Mexico although her late father, wanted them to return to Gomez Palacio in Durango state several years.

"I love America," she said. "I wanted to become a citizen but until we had classes here in Los Olivos it was too far for me to go. Her thre brothers and sister all live in Upland. They are Miss Gloria Ynostroza and Paul Ynostroza, a teacher at Upland Elementary, Felix and Carlo who work in construction.

Adella Morales, her eldest daughter is a high school student who plans to be a secretary. Helen and Teresa are in Junior High school. Luis is in the 5th grade at Upland Elementary.

The Morales home is a very pretty modern bungalow type with pebble roof, stucco and cedar siding. The interior is exceptionally attractive. There are three bedrooms, one full bathroom and a half-bath off Mrs. Morales' own bedroom.

Birch wood and tiled counters are used in the kitchen, which is separated from the dining area by a counter and drop shelves.

The pretty home, the pleasure of this widowed mother, seem to symbolize the growing pride of Mexican Americans, for she has done alone what many couples fail to do, even when they have had far greater opportunities.

P-T A Hard Times Dance Membership Drive Climax

Success has crowned the membership drive of Upland Elementary school P-T A as membership of fathers has climbed to 75 per cent of families attending the school. With cmplete results of the drive unobtainable at press time, of the 395 families with children in the school, 575 new members had been enrolled. The P-T A is working for a total membership of 900, according to Mrs. Richard Rine, membership chairman.

Friday's dance is being arranged by committees headed by Mrs. Charles Benninghoff, coordinator; Mrs. Velda Sauer, refreshments; Mrs. Donald Gibson, decorations; and Richard Riley, entertainment.

Chaffey Trustee Changes Cleared

Superintendent Daniel B. Milliken clarified expected adjustments in Chaffey School District boards made necessary by the recent withdrawal of the Fontana area, when trustees met in its regular meeting this week.

The superintendent said that the Chaffey high school district remains as it is until July 1, 1956. At that date the Fontana district will take over all property into their unified elementary and high school district. Chaffey college district remains the same, he said.

Coincident with official action of the county board of supervisors declaring the origin of the Fontana district the present Chaffey college board will be terminated, he added. The supervisor's action will probably be at their next official meeting. Following their action, the county superintendent of schools will reappoint the present board in its entirety as a college board to serve the balance of the school year. In May, regular election date, five members will be elected to the college board, with staggering terms of one for one year; two for two years and two for three years.

Representatives From Both Sides Discuss Views

Euclid Ave." Mr. Totten emphasized that since this would be the situation, the children east of Euclid would experience great difficulty in getting to school. He pointed out the children would have to cross the Santa Fe railway, Ninth St. and Arrow Hwy. in going to the Upland Elementary school.

Speakers in favor of the change declared the proposed new school boundary would result in all Upland children being together for classroom and community events, would remove confusion that now exists due to living in one city and the children in school elsewhere. Eventually, it was claimed, a new school would be built "somewhere" in the neighborhood. It was charged that if the school boundary is not changed, "Ontario will never build a school in our area."

President Allan S. Barr of the Upland board presided. The four other board members also listened to the arguments. Mr. Cook joined in the discussion when questions were presented.

With the discussion ended, the board members privately studied the issue and adopted a resolution. The resolution stated in part as follows:

"Whereas, the board of trustees of the Upland school district has no legal jurisdiction in the final decision to be reached on this question;

"Now therefore, be it hereby resolved, that the board will make no recommendation regarding this question."

Mrs. Martha O. Kay and Jarvis J. Leman sponsored the resolution. The document was signed by all board members, others being Dr. John Skewis, Mrs. Evelyn Engle and Mr. Barr.

The movement to get the boundary changed started last month. An official petition, calling for the vote, received far more names than were required. Col. Thrall will receive the petition. He will then officially notify the Upland and Ontario school boards. The county board of supervisors will then be given the responsibility to act. Mr. Thrall's recommendation will ask for an election.

The election will be only in the area involved — not in the present Upland school district. Involved is the area between the Santa Fe and the freeway from Grove Ave. west.

Organize To Urge Interest In Nov. Tax Election

"Associated Parent - Taecher Assns. of Upland" has been formed to urge local voters to approve the "excess tax rate" at the Nov. 22 election.

At present the excess tax rate is 40 cents but the proposal calls for a 30 cent rate for each $100 of assessed valuation.

In Upland are four P-T A groups and under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Fitzsimmons the membership has united for an intensive effort. Mrs. Walter Stewart is canvass chairman and Mrs. Don Stewart, Jr., is publicity chairman.

By permitting the tax rate to be above the so-called "legal limit", the school district receives many additional services that are outstanding, according to the leaders.

Something New Has Been Added For Motorists

Upland motorists will soon be seeing new signs reading "YIELD" at some intersections around the state, according to the State Highway Department.

Although in use for some time in a few eastern states, installation in California is now permitted under a new law which became effective Sept. 7.

"Yield" signs permit drivers to cross an intersection at 15 miles an hour or less if no vehicle is approaching on the cross street. If traffic is approaching close enough to constitute an immediate hazard, the driver must yield the right-of-way or if necessary, stop.

Motorists are warned that a high percentage of accidents occur at intersections and extreme caution should be used at locations where "Yield" signs have been installed.

FAMILY SERVICE MEETING

The recently organized Family Service Agency hold their first official meeting tonight at 7:30 in Central School, Ontario.

John Z. Martin, as chairman pro-tem of the meeting announces Robert Trentman, dean of men of Valley Junior College as speaker of the evening.

School Boundary Issue Interests

would happen should the bonds be defeated in trying to raise all the money possible toward the $450,000? The school board answer: "We don't want to think about that. It would mean, however, a continued siege of double sessions."

The petitioners were then asked the same question. Answer: "Leave it to the school board." (Remember! There is no guarantee that any bond issue will be voted favorably at any given time.)

The question of transportation was brought up and the following asked of the board: "Willyou furnish school bus facilities for this area?" Answer: "We definitely will not furnish bus service for this area. (In asking about the transportation I had in mind my particular neighborhood.)

Asked if they did not consider children crossing the railroad track, 9th street and Arrow a definite hazard, the answer, "It does present a hazard." (Kindergarten children are 5 years old. Do you want your children faced with these perils?)

If you are a parent or taxpayer, interested in voting on this matter and are not now a registered voter, we urge you to register at once in order to vote at such time that an election is called by the Sounty Superintendent of schools.

Padua Hills Review Reflects Folklore

Noches Mexicanas being presented at Padua Hills, Wednesday through Saturday until Nov. 12, reflects the great variety of folk dances and songs that are performed in Mexico.

The Mexican Players adhere strictly to the intricate steps and gestures handed down from generation to generation. Included are jaranas, huapangos, waltzes, schottisches, polkas and form dances. The players sing with nearly all the dances.

As an entre-act, Eligio Herrera, an authority on the ethics of Mexican folklore, performs a preconquest ceremonial dance of Oaxaca, as in ceremonial costume and feather headdress he depicts the story of the legendary quetzal which flew so high it took on the colors of the rainbow, but died when it lost its freedom.

A 'merienda' follows the review when visitors are encouraged.

Members raise their own funds. They pack regulation size boxes provided by the Red Cross, but their gifts reflect their own choice and some suggestions from the society.

Boxes usually contain toothbrushes, combs, games, writing paper, toys. In the latter category selections are made to please both boys and girls. Teachers sponsor the program and work with the Upland Red Cross chapter.

Explorers Visit Naval Station On Training Project Trek

Upland Explorer Troop 1, Ian Richardson, leader, attended last weekend's Explorer advisor training program and Explorer outing, at the Long Beach U. S. Naval station.

In the party from Upland were Doug Behm, Dick Woods, Gene Nicholson, Gary Gannon and Grant Elliott.

The program, arranged by naval authorities, began with Saturday lunch served in a mess hall followed by a tour of the Long Beach naval shipyards where Explorers saw the largest floating crane in the world. The crane, captured from Germany in World War II, is now in use at the naval shipyard. Explorers also saw the drydocks which are capable of handling the biggest ships afloat.

Later they boarded the U. S. Cruiser Helena for a conducted tour. They had dinner aboard followed by the showing of a first run movie.

The naval guests slept in the camping area and the baseball diamond and were given the use of shower facilities in the gym.

Sunday breakfast was served in a mess hall and the visitors attended Protestant or Roman Catholic services conducted by naval chaplains.

Final events on the program included a tour of Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors in naval tenders. A final meal was eaten at the station before the return to Upland.

Explorer Troop 1 recently selected a program of events by vote after considering a number submitted by the troop's various committees.

Included will be a parents' night, Nov. 18, in the First Methodist church hall; a trip of several days duration to Afton Canyon, during the Christmas vacation; a day trip to the Ford Motor Co. plant at Long Beach; a visit to a T. V. station and a day of skiing.

The citizenship project for merit badges will include a study of the Upland police and fire departments. The troop will also participate in "Safe Driving Day".

Politics and Farm Surplus Popular Topics In Mid-West

Politics and farm prices are the most popular topics for conversation when people in the great mid-west of America have vistors from California.

President Eisenhower's physical condition is such that most people are vitally interested in who might be the principal White House contenders next year.

In our recent trip we found strong sentiment for Vice President Richard Nixson. While the newspapers played up the apparent political squabble between Governor Knight and Nixon, many people seemed to recognize this as being merely local politics and of insufficient consequence to detract from the vice president.

As a "favorite son" candidate from California, we doubt if Governor Knight would make any dent on the Republican convention. Richard Nixon is a man of great stature in the minds of many people.

Concerning the farm surplus and the unattractive prices, many farmers realize the situation is due to over-production rather than to politics. Most communities between Ohio and Utah have very definite evidence of the surplus because government-owned storage bins dot the farming countryside. Improved machinery and techniques are introduced every year. In many cases only half as many men are needed to produce twice as much as a few years ago. The result, of course, is one of over-production and not of politics.

The most popular and biggest farm periodicals express the views that "fewer government controls" are favored. This attitude was expressed by men and women with whom we talked during the last three weeks. The general sentiment is; "The farm problem should not be involved in politics. The farmers created the surplus through abundent crops and its solution should be the job of the best brains in the country, not through some political maneuvering.

Furthermore, farmers are getting along "very nicely" at the moment, even though prices are sliding downward.

The fact remains, of course, that both political parties are going to woo the farmers' vote with promises.

After a trip across most of the nation, one cannot help but feel very grateful for America—thankful for a great system of highways, of powerful high, speed motor cars in which we can go at will whenever and wherever we choose.

Whether it is in Cario, Ohio or Lusk, Wyo. one can find very friendly people, very modern accommodations and a wholesome appreciation for what each little community has to offer.

We saw no great spectacular attraction. What we saw primarily was the steady succession of small communities every few miles across the great farm belt and across the great American desert. As never before we were impressed with the apparent satisfaction of people in their own home communities. What looked to us as a desolate God-forsaken community in San Dakota, was apparently a very happy settlement for a young waiter in a cafe. He said business was good, he liked the changes in the season, all of his friends lived in the community. What more would you want?

We realized anew that America is a country of great contrasts and that one can take his pick of what to do and where to live. From Ohio west through most of Minnensota, almost every [illegible] of our boulevard frontage was used either for agriculture, commerce or for residences. And then further west, lies miles and miles of desert land with farm houses miles apart.

Upland is one of the favored communities in the nation —we think. It is far ahead of many other places in many things —but you can't tell very many people that outside of Upland. They like their hometowns too.

Dr. James Latimer — This Life We Live

"English Spoke Here."

It was interesting to see a sign in a Shanghai shop that read, "English spoke here. We understand American". Also in my trial of teaching our language to students of another land and different background I found it was not an easy task. For example, one student asked me why we call trousers a PAIR. I assured him it was because there were two legs to a pair of pants. Then he came back with the question as to why we did not call a shirt a pair of shirts? He further suggested that if we called that garment a shirt we ought also to all the other garment a pant. I understand his reasoning.

In the Orient we find interesting signs as well as an interesting spoken language. A large clock shop in Peking bore the name of TIMES SQUARE. A Travel Bureau advertised, "Leave your baggage with us and we will send it in all directions."

The tailor shops have interesting lines of advertising. A coat and cloak maker advertised "We make coats out of your skin or ours." Another shop said: "Ladies have fits upstairs." And another assured us that, "Ladies are replenished in the upper story."

And a restaurant assured its patrons, "Our soups possess the soul of a tiger". And a cleaning establishment caught my attention by advertising, "You can die here and be dried clean." And in Canton, a shop sign read, "We will carve your bones or buy them." I held onto mine.

I was once walking up Kanking Road and saw that certain big shops were putting on their spring sales. In front of one was a Chinese Band. As I passed it was playing "While on Others You are Calling, Do not Pass Me By". On that same street I watched a funeral procession in honor of an official who had passed on, and the band was playing "There Will be a Hot Time in the Old Town To-night." Another band played as a funeral march, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."Chinese bands seem to play interesting melodies regardless of the implied sentiments.

It is said that a tourist in our land was surprised to read the sign FREE AIR, when he supposed that no country taxed the use of AIR. Another tourist is reported to have answered the question, "Shall I check your tires" by saying "No; I'll take them with me."

I am not surprised then that some of our school children murder the English language, for I have listened to your use of it.

Sharps and Flats

In this dizzy age of 275 h. p. cars, $64,000 TV program payoffs, and 1000 mph jet planes a simple little thing like a Community Chest quota gets lost in the shuffle.

Upland failed to go over the top last year and because of this the benefiting agencies, including the Boy and Girl Scouts, received less than the planned allotment.

Mrs. George Cassell, secretary of the Community Chest board, phoned me the other day about the coming drive. With other members of the board, she felt disappointed because last year's drive fell short.

She didn't call me for a donation, she knows that's automatic to the Community Chest. She wanted to know if I or others of the staff, had any ideas concerning workers for the drive in the offing.

My suggestions didn't amount to much, I'm afrid. To me it appears a duty for parents with children of Scouting age to assist in this drive. Pledging a few bucks is the easiest thing most of us can do. But parents with children of Scouting age should consider themselves in direct line for a job as a Community Chest worker.

It wouldn't be much of a trick for parents of children in the Scouts to organize a committee of 30 men and women and volunteer for duty during the coming drive.

The parents would be the ones to put over a drive like this in big style. They have much at stake. Their children are being given advantage of the finest training in the world. These youngsters are learning, under competent supervision, for the first time, how to live, work and play with others.

This is training that cannot be given in the home or at school. Without this training in force in this country the present juvenile delinquency rate would look small indeed.

It wasn't the workers' fault last year that the drive fell short. There just weren't enough workers. Each of the ones volunteering did the work of three or four people. To them goes the greatest of credit.

Imagine, if you can, the public clamor if the Community Chest drive fell flat and no money was available for the Boy and Girl Scouts. Hackles would arise and people would be condemned wholesale. That is, the people involved in the Community Chest drive.

A few determined and vitally interested people can be a terrific driving force. This committee of parents could be such a driving force.

One of the best examples of what a small group of determined Uplanders can do when the chips are down was demonstrated by the residents of Arrow Heights.

When Baldy View Elementary school opened, a committee approached the city council asking for a sidewalk from San Antonio Ave. west to the school grounds. The council favored the sidewalk but no money was available nor is the city authorized to build sidewalks fronting private property.

The committee then asked how much a sidewalk would cost for this frontage. They were given an approximate figure. The committee then asked, should the residents of Arrow Heights put up the money would the city put in the sidewalk? The city fathers said they would be glad to see that the sidewalk was installed.

This committee enlarged itself, rolled up collective sleeves and started punching doorbells, banging knockers and putting in phone calls. They came in with the cash, which was a little light because the city underestimated, but soon had a sidewalk. The city cooperated to the amount of the difference caused by the estimate.

These Arrow Heights residents had the safety of their children at stake. They did something to insure the safe routing of their youngsters to and from school.

These same parents, plus others in Upland, are again faced with maintaining added security for their children. This in the form of Boy and Girl Scouting which is so vital in developing character and preparing youngsters to face realities of life.

In Upland these organizations are supported by the Community Chest and these parents have a great stake in the success of the coming drive whether they realize it or not.

100 Attend O.E.S. Dinner

The Upland Order of the Eastern Star celebrated its 38th birthday anniversary Monday with a dinner in the Masonic hall attended by 100 members and guests.

Worthy Patron William Goalby spoke on the early history of the chapter.

Annual and grand chapter reports were given by Mesdames Maud Linsley, E. T. Crooke, H. T. Goslin, William Morrow, G. H. Cathcart and Harry Null, worthy matron.

Dinner chairmen were Mrs. Standlea.

Presiding were the worthy matron and the worthy patron.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Miller of Sanborn, Ia., have been visiting for two weeks at the home of Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. Niles Rohrig and her brothers, Glenn, Harry and Ellery Wright.

Newlyweds Living Here

Walter F. Kough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merl Kough, 1661 W. Arrow Hwy., and Miss Mary Ann McLeod, daughter of Mrs. Norman D. McLeod of Ontario, were married Sept. 17, in the First Methodist church chapel, Ontario, with the Rev. Ralph Johnson officiating.

Approximately 150 guests attended the double ring ceremony when the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Tom O'neill of San Diego.

Her beautiful white ballerina length gown of tulle over satin was styled with a fitted lace bolero with push-up sleeves and a rounded collar. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a dainty pearl decorated cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of white asters and pompon chrysanthemums. Miss Alma Chacov, the maid of honor, wore a pastel blue ballerina length frock of tulle over satin with a fitted lace jacket. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink asters.

Paul Maloney was the best man and the ushers were John Bice and Kenneth Boyce.

Mrs. McLeod chose a frock of brown organdy and wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Kough, mother of the bridegroom, chose a pink gabardine frock and a white carnation corsage.

Approximately 100 guests greeted the young couple in the church reception room when a three tier wedding cake was served. Assisting were Mrs. Jean Bice, Mrs. Martha Gale and Miss Janice Elam.

For a honeymoon at Corona del Mar the bride donned a pure silk print dress and patent accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Kough are now in residence at 384 N. Ninth Ave.

The bridegroom has lived in Upland for 16 years. He served in the U. S. Army and is now a chemist at Exchange Lemon Products in Corona. He is a graduate of Chaffey High school and Junior college and of the University of California at Davis.

Mrs. Kough is a nurse at San Antonio Community hospital. She is a graduate of Chaffey High school and attended Junior college. She graduated from San Bernardino Valley College of Nursing this year.

Mrs. Donald Blair, presided, and the theme of the meeting was the Indian American. A book on the subject was partially reviewed by Mrs. Arthur Relph. The remainder will be completed at the next meeting.

Mrs. Leslie Foster gave the inspirational talk.

It was decided to hold the annual church dinner and bazaar, in the church, Dec. 1. Mrs. Roy L. Derfer will be in charge and Mrs. Robert Murray will be in charge of the candy booth. There will be a wishing well, dart games and many other booths. The men of the congregation will serve the dinner.

Guests were Mesdames Anthony Barone, Fannie Callio and Okla Stout.

Members were invited to a meeting of the Presbyterian United Church Women in the First Presbyterian church when the Rev. Boyce Van Osdel will be the speaker.

Pastor Came To California To Claim His Swedish Bride

A romance that had its blossoming in Sweden more than a year ago resulted in the recent marriage in Califgnia of pastor and Mrs. Elon B. Svanell. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Ekberg, 272 Greentree Rd.

They were married in the Immanuel Christian A s semblies church, Los Angeles, Sept. 17, with Pastor Paul Settersten officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long waisted gown of white lace and carried a bouquet of white roses.

She was attended by Mrs. Sam Settersten, as matron of honor and her sister, Miss Gunborg Eckberg, as bridesmaid. Olle Randen served as usher.

Following the ceremony a honeymoon was spent in Santa Cruz. The young couple is now living in Upland at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Svanell came to America with her parents and three sisters in 1948. They made their home in Chicago but later moved to Altadena. All members of the family came to Upland in June.

Last year the former Miss Eckberg returned to Sweden for a vacation. While attending the Philadelphia church in Stockholm she met her future husband who was one of the six pastors on the church ministerial staff. It was the church of her childhood for her father had been a soloist there for 25 years.

While they became engaged she wanted to be married in America with her own family present. The marriage date was tentative to enable the bridegroom to apply for admission to the United States under the quota.

While Pastor Svanell has left his post with his church in Stockholm he intends to return to Sweden with his bride within the year.

"It is my country and I feel that I am needed there," he said.

In the meantime he has found work at the Arrow Dairy and before returning to Sweden plans to attend a Pentecostal Bible college in Los Angeles for further study.

The young pastor who resembles Billy Graham in appearance had heard that evangelist while in Sweden.

Announce Poster Contest Winners

Winners in the poster contest to publicize the Alta Loma P-T A harvest dinner and carnival were Royce Jean Haigh and Jean Ann Kilmurray, who won first place with their joint poster, according to Mrs. Roger Henshaw, finance and budget chairman.

Other winners were: Donald Chilcott, second; and Patty Chojnacki, third.

Mozart Festival Brings Group Of International Renown Here

The Valley Chamber Music society will present the Hungarian Vegh quartet in a Mozart festival, in six appearances with the first on Nov. 6 at 4 p.m. in the Bridges Hall of Music, Pomona college, Claremont.

The festival will honor the 200th anniversary of the birth of the Austrian composer, Amadeus Mozart. Similar festivals are being held throughout the United States, England and continental Europe.

Members of the quartet first came together in Budapest in 1946 but Switzerland is now their home. This is their second North American tour. Last year they played in Claremont under the auspices of the Valley Chamber Music Society of which Mrs. Warren Wass is a member of the board of directors.

Each player in this illustrious group has been a solo performer, but years of ensemble playing have given them a perfect balance, so that they sound as one stringed instrument. They won renown in many European music festivals and in 1952 received the French Grand Priz de Disques for their interpretations of the major Mozart Quartets for Disophile, some of which will be played in their Claremont program.

The internationally famous violinist Jascha Veissi will be heard with them on three of the selections played here.

Following their first concert they will play on Nov. 7., 8, 14 and 15. These concerts will be at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets for all five concerts are available to the public, at the Music office, Pomona college, Claremont. There is a reduced fee for student tickets.

Guests Have Gay Evening

Women's hats modeled by male guests was an amusing feature of a party Friday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Foster entertained at a dessert party for Los Campaneros club, in Holiday House, Ontario.

The models paraded down a winding stairway before judges. Jack Whitney and Don Schmidt were the prizewinners.

Los Campaneros is a couples' club of the Cucamonga Community church.

Guests not previously mentioned were Robert and Lucille Murray, Ray and Dorothy Derfer, Margaret Schmidt, Mary Whitney, Arvid and Eunice Lewis, Henry and Fanny Stockton, Guy and Alberta Wheatley, Don and Lula Blair, Emma Thayer, Frances Flanders, Gloria Thompson, and Syd Love.

BIGGEST LEMON NEWS IN YEARS!

Sunkist announces lemons to be trademarked!

Here is the first ad in the big national campaign announcing that fresh lemons will soon be stamped with the famous name—Sunkist.

Sunkist Growers have invested millions in advertising and merchandising to build the fresh lemon business and to build consumer preference for the Sunkist brand. Now Mrs. Housewife can exercise that preference when she buys because she can tell a Sunkist Lemon at a glance.

This announcement is sure to have a far-reaching effect on the lemon business. The produce trade has already widely predicted that this consumer demand will result in increasing premiums for trademarked Sunkist fruit. Even before a supply is available, orders are being received specifying "trademarked fruit only."

You owe it to yourself to learn more about this important new development. Ask your local Sunkist packing house manager for more information now.

5 Year Upland Home Building Totals 978 Units

$5,000 Increase In Average Home

Nine hundred and seventy-eight new houses have been built in Upland during the last five years for a total investment of $8,647,905., it was revealed yesterday.

These figures came from the office of Richard Derby, Upland building inspector, who reported the 10 months of this year have produced 156 new houses. Indications point to this year being the second highest since 1951.

Great "residential subidvision" year here was during 1951 when 395 dwellings were constructed.

Residential building here during the first 10 months of 1955 totalled $1,886,510 with 156 new houses going up. Average cost of the local 1955 dwellings is more than $12,000. The 395 dwellings in 1951 were built at an average cost of $7,200. Increase in per dwelling unit cost is due to higher construction materials and also to the local trend toward large houses, Mr. Derby explained.

Building total for October up to yesterday was $189,173, most of which was for residential construction.

A recent building permit went to John Donaldson, for a new dwelling at 1347 N. First Ave. He now resides at 941½ E. Ninth St. Harold Long was given a permit to add a grease room to his service station at 100 N. Euclid Ave. A. G. Foreman is owner of the property.

Other permits were issued as follows:

Blanche Hood, 1369 E. Ninth St., dwelling at 1371 E. Ninth St.; Raymond E. Kellog, 8427 E. Olive St., for a dwelling at 656 E. Olive St.; Mrs. W. W. Horak, W. Arrow Hwy., for a sign on the business building at 125 N. Second Ave., and to the Evangel Temple for a sign on the church building at 295 E. Ninth St.

Lockheed Researchers

MEMBERS OF the Lockheed Aircraft Co.'s survey team which visited Upland Tuesday, included Mrs .Hugh Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sythe and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fletcher.

Upland Visit From Wives' View Point

Wives and mothers are playing an important role in the Lockheed aircraft plant community survey being conducted by rank and file employees of the company. Described as field survey groups they have been making a tour of all parts of Upland and investigating all aspects of life of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wall have visited The Upland News on various occasions in search of information. Because the woman's point of view is to be very important in bringing some of these families to Upland Mrs. Wall was interviewed on the subject.

"What are the wives of Lockheed employees looking for and how does Upland appeal to you?" she was asked.

"We look foremost for schools for the children and a good environment, for convenience of shopping and the cultural aspects of the community.

"We've been making a survey of the churches and the accessibility of residence areas to churches, shopping and schools", she said.

Families of the Lockheed employes are of all ages, she said. Many have teenagers and many have infants and small children. The average family unit is about four people.

They are home owning people but at ffrst a good many rentals will be required, she reported.

The majority, with few exceptions will come here from the San Fernando valley, where they have been employed by the company, many of them having a long tenure of service.

"I think the community is charming and that goes for the entire area. I was most struck with the friendliness and the helpfullness of the people," she said.

'I can't say what the accommodation situation is because that is not our part of the survey.

"Mr. Wall and I were assigned to survey churches, public utilities, transportation and newspapers".

Mrs. Wall said that they had not yet learned whether or not they would be among employes transferred to this area.

"If we are transferred we will be looking for a house in Upland" she said. "I need an older type house because my furniture is antique and it needs large rooms."

They have two children, Cynthia, 12 and Richard, 11.

Upland Joins In Urging Park Site At Prado Dam

Upland city council in their regular meeting Thursday night adopted a resolution urging establishment of a recreational park at the Prado Dam location, south of the city.

The resolution set forth that the area has been used by city residents as an unofficial recreation area for years and in that it is now publicly owned land the state should officially set it apart for recreational purposes.

Upland council's resolution is in line with similar requests to the state from cities neighboring on the Prado Dam locality and who's residents have been making use of the property for recreation and picnicing.

The resolutions are being passed that the state may be encouraged to take such action while the property is still public domain.

Smart people do not do all the talking.

Uplanders At Testimonial For Sheppard

A number of Uplanders attended the Congressman Harry Shepherd testimonial dinner last week in the cafeteria building of the Orange Show in San Bernardino. Of 600 people in attendance 50 were from the west end.

The affair marked the congressman's 20th year in office.

Ammg Uplanders present were Assemblyman Eugene Nisbet, who was one of the honorary chairmen, Mayor and Mrs. E. Tweed Stone, and Ralph H. Miller, president of the Upland Chamber of Commerce. The West End Democrats were well represented by a large delegation including its president, Frank Glover and Mrs. Robt. L. (Mae) Stover, who was in charge of ticket sales for this area. Other honorary chairmen were Stanford C. Shaw, a former assemblyman; Jesse W. Curtis, Sr., former State Supreme Court Justice, N. C. Peters, U. S. Commissioner and Frank C. Russell, former assemblyman.

With football in progress and hunting coming up, work must be relegated to its place if logic

Young Players Love Their Violin Lessons

Mr. Calvin Rainey, Upland elementary school music instructor and one of his classes. The youthful violinists are very serious about music. They are first row: Jonathon Wilson, Marcia Sue Becker and Kathleen Moore (standing); seated, second row: Christina Lawrence, Stephen Futscher, John Gilliland, Becky Burlinghan; standing: Judy Hood, Roy Gillam, Jon Christen and Georgine Latkovivh.

Pupils Have Advantages Of Music

For many years the Upland school district has had a choral music teacher who has taught classroom music in elementary schools. Besides teaching singing and the basic principles of music to grades 3 to 6, this instructor has been on a consultant basis for other primary teachers. He or she helps with classroom plays, school assemblies, and P-T.A. programs. This teacher provides experiences in rhythms, rhythm bands, music appreciation, and other musical activities. The choral music teacher has added much to the educational program.

Last year, after much consideration and many requests from parents, instrumental music was added to the curriculum for children of grades 4, 5 and 6. This program is conducted at each school with the youngsters meeting in small groups twice a week. By the time these young people reach junior high school they will be well able to participate in either band or orchestra.

The school district is purchasing approximately $2000 worth of instruments and musical supplies this year. In addition, many parents are cooperating by either renting or purchasing instruments for their children. Lessons are given on the following instruments: violin, viola, cello, bass, flute, clarinet, piccolo, trumpet, cornet, saxaphone, drums, French horn, mellophone, baritone and trombone. The response of both parents and young people has been very gratifying.

Money received from the excess tax rate helps to provide these musical opportunities, both choral and instrumental, for the children of the Upland school district.

Panthers 20-14 Over Santa Ana

Fighting back in a determination to end their string of defeats Chaffey College Panthers, though stunned with the short end of a 14-0 score at the end of the first quarter, salvaged a 20-14 win over the Santa Ana eleven on Graber Field Friday.

They made 11 first downs to the Don's 7 and built up a rushing yardage of 238 to the visitor's 92 with an edge of 20 more yards gained through the air than the Santa Ana squad.

The only place they trailed the visitors was an indication of hard fighting by the Chaffey men when they lost 50 yards by penalties as against only 21 by their rivals.

This week's game is with the San Bernardino eleven at San Bernardino.

Council Agrees With School Boundary Plea

Upland city council gave approval to the effort now being made by residents of the south area to include that portion of Upland in the city's school district rather than in Ontario as now defined.

Representing families in the area south of the Santa Fe tracks from the east to west city limits, now engaged in a project to bring elementary school children from the Ontario schools to those of their own city, Ted Atwood asked council's support of the move. He stated that council's support would lend weight to their proposal.

Following a discussion, councilman Eugene Nisbet moved that as a matter of practical operation the boundaries of a school district should coincide with those of the city.

Chaffey High Will Be Host To Speech Group

Entries from the nine Citrus Belt Speech League schools converged on Chaffey high school Oct. 25 for their annual fall Interpretation Tournament. Each school entered five speakers in each of the following events held from 2-5 p.m.: poetry, light verse, humorous, dramatic and oratorical.

Judging was done by the Chaffey high faculty, the junior college speech students and the faculty from the visiting schools with no ribbons being awarded since this was a practice tournament.

So far this year Chaffey speech students have attended two events beginning with the Citrus Belt Speech League demonstration workshop at Redlands high school early in October. Seventy Chaffey students went with their faculty sponsors, Bill Simonsen and Dave McComas. Brenda Keller, Upland, participated in demonstrations while National Forensic League President Larry Worthey represented Chaffey on a panel discussion.

Riverside hosted the Citrus Belt schools Oct. 18 for an Extemporaneous Speaking Tournament with the following students from Upland and area making an excellent showing for Chaffey: Brenda Keller, Upland; Shirley Stipe, Cucamonga; Margret Bray, Alta Loma; and Sammie Barker, Upland.

Chaffey will also have a debating team this year to handle the National High School question, "Federal Aid to Education".

Upland 20-30 Club Meets With Ontario

The Upland 20-30 club met Thursday night as their regular meeting at Ro-Val's for dinner, then journeyed to Ontario where they visited the Ontario 20-30 club.

The joint meeting in Ontario was an educational presentation on club history and parliamentary procedure.

John Engle, president presided at the combined session.

Regular meeting of the Upland club will be ladies night tonight at the Chuck Wagon.

Olof Snyder Heads Tri-County Group

Olof E. Snyder, 247 S. Sultana Ave., Upland, director of Chaffey College Adult Education, was elected president of the Tri-County Adult Education Administrators' association on Oct. 18. This association includes administrators from Riverside, San Bernardino and parts of Los Angeles county.

Snyder is also taking office as a member of the Board of Directors of the California Association of Adult Education administrators at the State convention in Bakersfield this weekend. In that association he is a member of the Professional Standards committee and chairman of the Resolutions committee of the convention.

Finally Completes His Visits To Each of State's 58 Counties

Realizing an ambition of more than 30 years W. W. Mather, long-time resident this summer visited Alpine county, the last of the state's 58 counties which he has at one time or another visited.

Mr. Mather, attorney in Upland was born in Los Angeles county and refers proudly to the rather long list of California schools which he has attended.

He lists the cities and counties where he attended school, including colleges and universities as, Santa Paula, Fresno, Colton, Monrovia, Alhambra, Pomona, Claremont, Los Angeles, Ontario and Berkeley.

In 1926, Allyn and Bacon, Boston publishers brought out Mr. Mather's first edition of "Government of California" to be used as a supplement to their publication "American Government", written by the late Dr. Frank A. Magruder. As a textbook for high schools the publication has been widely used throughout the state and grew in successive editions until in 1950 it reached approximately 185 pages.

One chapter on local government involved the study of all county charters in California. Interest aroused by working on the book led Mr. Mather to the desire to visit all the state's 58 counties, with the ambition reaching a climax with his visit to Alpine county in September.

W. W. MATHER

POPULATION 241

He describes the trip which, with Mrs. Mather he visited in late summer, as a little county in the Sierra backbone of California with an area of 575 square miles and a 1950 Federal census figure of but 241 persons of whom about one-sixth are found in the county seat of Markleevilie. However, in the lush mining days the county boasted a population of about 10,000.

Mr. Mather continues the story of his visit stating that Alpine County has been until last year comparatively isolated, as Highway 395 crossed the Nevada line toward Carson City, and the only access from the west was over the fairly high Ebbett's Pass road and from the north by a winding but beautiful road running south from Lake Tahoe.

"Now there is a cut-off from 395 across the mountains, giving access from the southeast. On this year's trip we drove over Ebbett's Pass, a truly beautiful country, to Markleeville. We had lunch in the old Alpine Hotel. However, unlike Mariposa County, which has the oldest Court House in the State, built in 1854, Alpine county has a modern cement block court house, erected nearly 30 years ago. The Court room is modern and like those in our county, except smaller. The county jail is in the basement. On inquiry at the county clerk's office, we were invited to visit the jail. "Just walk down stairs. It's open. There's no one there."

MARIPOSA OLDEST

"By contrast the court room is Mariposa is at the front of the two-story frame building in a large room with a huge old fashioned pot-bellied stove in the center. In front it looks like a two-story square house. Inside there is a long hall running down the center, with county offices located on each side.

"We saw lots of fishing in the streams along the Ebbett's Pass highway to Markleeville, but on inquiry at the hotel found that the trout were brought in from Idaho. There are three county seats which we have not yet visited: San Andreas in Calaveras County; though we visited the Calaveras grove of giant redwoods on this trip; Downieville in Sierra county; and Weaverville in Trinity county. So we still have some travel left in these former populous counties of California.

MISSED BEING CAPITAL

"We visited briefly the town of Columbia, which once lost being the Capital City of California by only a vote or two. Now a somewhat remote mountain hamlet, with some of the buildings of a century ago still to be seen.

"It might be appropriate to add that California really had a three-year centenary to celebrate its state government. Gold was discovered in 1948 and the Gold Rush led to the demand for state government. The first Constitution was framed and ratified in 1849 and the first State officials took office in December, 1849, nearly nine months before California was formally admitted into the Union on Sept. 9, 1850, which gives us the third year of celebration."

Upland Debaters In Tournament

The Upland College debate squad, coached by Bob Carlson, travelled to San Diego State college last weekend for participation in the annual practice tournament for the Western Speech Association Convention in Parkland, Washington.

The most outstanding records for the squad were achieved by Shirley Book, George Schipper and Gladys Weaver, three veterans of last year's competition.

Discussion topics were, "Racial Integration in the Public school" and "The Federal Government in our Economic System."

The squad will take part in the debate tournament at Los Angeles City college, Nov. 4 and 5, when the subject will be "The Annual Wage For American Non Agricultural Industries.
